Elmer's Here!

EDMONTON — Every week is "Safe Driving Week" for soldiers and their families living in Edmonton.

The 2nd to 8th December — declared Safe Driving Week throughout Canada by the Canadian Highway Safety Council — saw continuing effort on the part of soldiers stationed in the Griesbach area in the fostering of safe driving practices.

During the past year members of the Canadian Provost Corps have been working with groups of children up to the grade six level on the theory that this is

In conjunction with Pedal Pusher Clubs, the Army arranged with the Alberta Motor Association for School Safety Patrol Supervisors to show safety films and cartoons stressing road safety to more than 1,200 children attending Griesbach's two public schools.

Elmer the Safety Elephant carried his message of safety to every classroom and home in Griesbach.

Colourful posters focused attention in school classrooms and corridors, introduction leaflets were given to all children to take home to their parents, and each child the best age at which to instill a consciousness of safe driving habits.

"Pedal Pusher" clubs have been organized by soldier volunteers where children are taught the rules of the road, have their bicycles checked for mechanical safety and earn certificates of proficiency in bicycle riding.

A bicycle "Rodeo" is held in the fall with winners going on to compete in the Edmonton District and later the Provincial Rodeo in Red Deer where children of soldiers from Griesbach schools won best individual driver awards for the past two years.

received Elmer the Safety Elephant's illustrated booklets of safety rules.

Senior Army officials raised safety pennants on flagpoles at Griesbach schools early in the week. Should a child become involved in an accident and found to be at fault, the principal concerned will remove the pennant from the flagpole of his school for a period of one month.

For Army adults, safety traffic aids provided by the Alberta Safety Council were prepared for display and distribution in all offices, messes and canteens in the Griesbach area.

"Lord Jesus Christ, Be Thou Our Guest"

THEY sat at supper on Christmas Eve,
The boys of the orphan school,
And the least of them rose up to say
The quaint old grace, in the old-time way
Which had always been the rule:

LORD Jesus Christ, be Thou our guest,
And share the bread which Thou hast blest."

THE smallest scholar sat himself down
And the spoons began to clink
In the pewter porringers one by one.
But one wee fellow had scarce begun
When he stopped and said, "I think —"

THEN he paused with reddened cheek.
The kindly master bade him speak.

BUT why does tse Lord Christ never come?"
He asked in a soft, shy way.
"Time after time we have prayed that He
Would come and make one of our company
Just as we do today.

BUT why does the Lord Christ never prayer.
Do you think He would if I set Him a chair?"

PEHHAPS; who knoweth?" the master said,
Making the sign of the Cross
As the little fellow gladly sped
And drew a chair at the table's head
Beneath a great ivy boss.

THEN he turned as in sure request
The entrance of the holy guest.

EVEN as he waited, the latch was raised,
And the door swung wide, and lo,
A pale little beggar boy stood there

With his shoeless feet and flying hair
All powdery white with snow.

I HAVE no food, I have no bread.
For Christ's sake, take me in," he said.

THEN glad and joyful the same dear child
From his chair raised up and said,
"The Lord has heard us, now I know,
He could not come Himself and so,
He sent this boy instead.

HIS chair to fill, His place to take,
For us to welcome for His sake."

AND hearing this the scholars all
Spring from the table up.
A chair for Jesus ready set
Received the beggar cold and wet,
Each pressed his plate and cup:

TAKE mine, take mine," they urged and prayed.
The beggar thanked them, half dismayed.

FROM the old rafters overhead, as he
Feasted in the new content,
Quite forgetting his recent woe,
The ivy garlands seemed as though
To breathe forth a rich, strange scent.

AND it seemed that in the green-hung hall
A presence unseen had blessed them all.

O LOVELY legend of olden times,
Be thou as true today.
The Lord Christ stands by every door
Veiled in the person of His poor,
And all our hearts can pray:
"Lord Jesus Christ, be Thou our guest
And share the bread which Thou hast blest."

— From an old reader.

Fire Department Hints for a Happy & Fire Safe Xmas

THE TREE.

Cut a growing tree or try to buy one that hasn't dried out from prolonged storage. (When too dry, branches are brittle and shed needles easily.)

Stand the tree in water, or snow outdoors until you are ready to use it indoors.

Bring the tree indoors just before Christmas and take it out just as soon as possible afterwards. (Dec. 26th is recommended.)

The larger the tree the greater the hazard, so do not get one any larger than you need.

Just before setting up the tree, saw off the trunk at an angle at least one inch above the original cut.

Place the freshly cut tree trunk in water and keep the level of the water above the cut the entire time that the tree is indoors. (Check the water level at least once a day.)

Support the tree well. Don't put it near sources of heat (fireplaces, radiators, etc.) or where, standing or fallen it could block the way out of the room in case of FIRE.

GOOD TIDINGS TO ALL

General Officer Commanding's Christmas Message

This is to express to all ranks and civilian employees my sincere thanks for your continued loyalty and my congratulations on the high standards you have consistently maintained throughout 1962. I extend to you and your families every good wish for Christmas and the New Year.

To those who are unable to be with their families at this time I extend a special greeting and hope you will soon be re-united.

J. M. Rockingham

CHRISTMAS TREE DISPOSAL

Christmas trees will be picked up in the PMQ Area commencing at 0800 hrs. Friday, January 4th, 1963.

Occupants are requested to place their trees near the road in front of their PMQ's prior to that time.

The normal garbage pick up will not take trees at any time and occupants will therefore be responsible for removal of any trees after January 4th.

Please make certain your children do not play with, remove or accumulate trees which are awaiting removal.

A COUNCIL GREETING

The festive Christmas season has arrived once more and in consideration of recent World events, we should all be deeply grateful that we still have "Peace On Earth" for Christmas of 1962. We of the Council extend to all residents of our Community the warmest Greetings and we especially wish the youngsters a most enjoyable season.

CHRISTMAS 1962

At this time of year we are busy completing or beginning our Christmas shopping; decorating our homes and Christmas trees; purchasing food to prepare the traditional Christmas dinner; and many other countless tasks. The season when children's thoughts turn to Santa Claus and what jolly Old Saint Nick will leave under the tree on Christmas morning. The time for adults to exchange gifts with their relatives and friends and to enjoy many happy occasions together.

All these customs certainly have their value but too often this is the only meaning that Christmas has for a lot of people. In this 20th Century much emphasis is placed on these things to the exclusion of the true meaning of Christmas.

What happened on that first Christmas day? A little Child was born in Bethlehem of Judea — a gift of God to mankind. There was great joy in that city — angels, shepherds, wisemen, gathered around the cradle. "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

God gives to each one of us now the same gift — His dear Son; the same power and divine love. "For unto us a Child is born, unto us a Son is given." Each Christmas he comes to us as a little child asking for our love and life. Christ came and lived here on earth to show man

Area Commander's Message

While I have been in command of Alberta Area for just over three months I take this opportunity at the Christmas Season to thank all ranks and civilian employees for your full support during this past year. It has been a busy year and we have been able to accomplish a great deal.

To all of you and your families I wish a Happy Christmas and good health and happiness in the New Year.

E. Meach

how to live. He died on the Cross to free us from our sins and to give us life. He rose on the third day winning the victory over sin, the world and the devil.

Saviour, which is Christ the Lord."

THE PADRES

Shall we not then strive to give our life to His service? If we do, God, in Christ will change us — for His service is perfect freedom and the bonds of love which unite us to Him will unite us to one another.

"Behold I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a

Merry Christmas

The Administration of the City of Edmonton joins people everywhere in celebrating the birth of the Prince of Peace.

The meaning of Christmas has a particular significance at a time when men pay little heed to the trials of their brothers.

We pray, therefore, that in this season men may turn to each other and clasp hands, that the spirit of Christmas envelope one and all and that all voices may rejoice — JOY TO THE WORLD.

Feast of Christmas

The Church celebrates the Nativity on December 25. The feast is called Christmas. On this day every priest is granted the privilege of saying three Masses: one in commemoration of Christ's eternal birth from God the Father; another in remembrance of His temporal birth of the Blessed Virgin Mary; and a third to recall His spiritual birth in the hearts of the faithful.

The word "Christmas" comes from Christ and Mass. The feast is so called because on that day the Mass commemorating the birth of Christ is said.

An angel appeared to shepherds and told them of the Nativity. A star led three Magi (Wise Men) to Bethlehem. The shepherds represented the poor. The Magi represented the rich. All offered their gifts to the Infant Jesus. Our Lord does not look at the price of our gifts, but at the purity of our hearts.

The Church commemorates the adoration of the Magi on the Feast of the Epiphany, January 6. "Epiphany" means manifestation. In the persons of the Magi, who were not Jews, Our Lord was manifested to all nations of the earth, who were at the time lost in paganism. With the Magi we are called to the Truth; the Old Testament was ended, and the world had entered upon a new Covenant with God. And if, like the Magi, we offer Jesus Christ the gold of our love, the myrrh of self-sacrifice, and the incense of our prayers, we too shall be united with God.

Many Churches and homes set up a crib at Christmas. This custom, although of very ancient origin, was popularized by St. Francis of Assisi. In the year 1223, he visited Pope Honorius III and sought approval of his plans to make a scenic representation of the Nativity. Having obtained the Pope's consent, Francis left Rome, and arrived at Greccio on Christmas Eve. There in the church he constructed a crib, grouping around it images of the Blessed Virgin and St. Joseph, of the shepherds, the ox, and the ass. At the midnight Mass St. Francis acted as deacon. After singing the words of the Gospel, "And they laid Him in a manger," he knelt down to meditate on the great gift of the Incarnation. And people around saw in his arms a Child, surrounded by a most brilliant light.

Since then the devotion to the crib has spread far and wide. The crib remains in church until the octave day of the Epiphany. At the proper time the images of the Three Kings and their retinue are added, making a daily advance towards the crib.

Most homes also set up a decorated Christmas tree. It is a reminder of the tree of the cross. The boxes of Christmas gifts remind us of the great Gift that God sent us.

Santa Claus, the jolly and beloved distributor of Christmas gifts, is an American adoption of St. Nicholas, Bishop of Myra, of the fourth century. This Saint is popular in Germany, Switzerland, and the Netherlands, where he is made the secret purveyor of gifts to children on December 6, his feast day. The custom was brought to New York by the Dutch, quickly spread throughout the United States, and became absorbed into the Christmas celebration.

CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

MOST REVEREND MAURICE ROY
MILITARY VICAR TO THE CANADIAN ARMED FORCES

At this time when the entire Christian world is directing its efforts towards unity, the heavenly message of "Peace on earth to men of good will" is especially significant.

It is my prayerful wish that the blessings of the Christmas season may descend upon the members of our Armed Forces and their dependents at home and abroad, and remain with them throughout the coming year.

RECEIVE CONFIRMATION

A Word About the Special Services

HOLY COMMUNIONS

Please note the many services of Holy Communion available to communicants over the Christmas season. These are open to communicant members of all denominations. Anglican communicants are reminded this is a season of obligation and other denominations who follow the quarterly system of Holy Communion are reminded that Christmas time is usually set aside for this observance.

Sun., 23 December Carol Services 24th December

The morning service at the Chapel will feature Christmas music by the Junior, Intermediate and Senior choirs. It will be a family Sunday and no Sunday School will be held. It is hoped that families will attend together.

At 7:00 p.m. a United Church Confirmation service at which 7 young people will profess their faith and be received into Church membership. Your support of these young people is requested. A reception sponsored by the W. A. will be held following this service.

The Staff of the Griesbach Bugle wishes all its readers and advertisers a Very Merry Christmas!

The children's service will be at 7:00 p.m. in the Chapel and will feature solos, choral selections and anthems by the Junior Choir as well as the colored film "Holy Night". The children will also have an opportunity to sing their favorite carols. Although this service is especially for children all who wish to come are welcome.

The adult carol service will be a candlelight service and will feature the music of the PPCLI Band and the Christmas story read by 9 narrators. Favorite carols will be sung and there will be music by the Intermediate and Senior Choirs. This will be followed by the traditional midnight Communion.

C.W.A. News

The monthly meeting of the C.W.A. was held in the Chaplain's Quarters on Tuesday, December 4th.

The winning ticket in the raffle of a beautifully crocheted bedspread was Mrs. Mackay of 10424 - 152 Avenue. Congratulations.

A letter was received from the Marian Centre thanking all those who contributed clothing in their recent drive. Like most of the homemakers here in Griesbach, the director is knee-deep in plans for Christmas dinner. Multiply your menu by one hundred and you will see her problem in the proper perspective. This non-denominational relief centre is supported solely by public donations and is the only one in the city which will serve a dinner to less fortunate on Christ's birthday. Any assistance toward spreading goodwill would be greatly appreciated and certainly is needed. A bucket will be placed at the rear of the church, so anyone wishing to keep the true spirit of Christmas alive may contribute. The collection will be used to help provide the dinner.

Flowers and our prayers were sent to Mrs. P. (Marie) Camilleri, who is ill in the hospital.

A Requiem Mass is to be said for Mrs. Margaret (Meg) McGowan of Kingston, a former member of the C.W.A. who died last month.

After the monthly business had been attended to, Father Leduc showed slides taken on a recent trip to Israel.

St. John's W.A.

Another year in the life of St. John's W.A. is swiftly ebbing to its close. May I therefore take this opportunity to thank all the members of the Chapel who donated so generously to the home baking and candy tables at our Christmas Bazaar. I would also like to thank all the ladies who so untiringly sewed and knitted for us. Many thanks as well for all who supported not only our Bazaar but the other projects sponsored throughout the year by the W.A. Your interest has been most gratifying and is very much appreciated.

May I extend an invitation to all ladies of the garrison who have not yet attended W.A. to visit us in the New Year. We meet in the Chapel Conference Rooms at 8:00 p.m. on the second and fourth Tuesday of the month.

A very happy Christmas to you all.

Ladies, do you have your Christmas shopping all finished? Baking in the freezer? Cards all mailed? House shining from attic to basement? Right! Now relax in the most comfortable chair, put your feet up and reach for that magazine with the article about how to become a beautiful, exciting, glamorous you in three days!

I can see you all immediately starting to droop. Even if it were possible, you say, who's to see you — with the festive season already started and the man in your life too busy to notice you anyway. That's not the right attitude, let's not begrudge the men a little enjoyment after the wonderful time we've been having — spending their money, wracking our brains trying to help the children shop for Dad's Christmas present and remembering to buy gifts for all his family. Maybe he will take time between rounds to get a good look at the 'new you' and your efforts will not be wasted. Let's have a whack anyway.

We start by getting loads of sleep, unglue those tired eyes from T.V. firmly at 10 p.m. but try to avoid sleeping after 6 a.m. as I hear this is the third and heaviest sleep of the night and you are apt to wake up cross and irritable after it, which means more lines and wrinkles. Are your eyes puffy? Treat yourself to some eye-cream and apply hot and cold compresses alternately. Putting on a little weight? Not much time to do much about it except to go on a 24 hour liquid diet — lots of fruit juices and Adam's ale. How about a manicure? Don't worry if your nails are chewed from worrying — nip out and buy yourself a set of false ones.

You've probably already had a new hairdo, but if you want to wash your hair at the last minute and you're all out of shampoo, try separating egg whites from the yolks, beat well, then fold together. After shampooing, rinse well with warm water, not hot — unless you want a 'scrambled head'. For a rinse, weak strained tea for brunettes and juice of two lemons for blondes.

To soothe those aches, add a cup of starch to the bath water, it will also make your skin soft and silky. Need an astringent? If you happen to have some ginger beer around the house pat a little on your face, leave to dry then rinse with cool water.

The male half of my family at this point, are breathing down my neck wanting to know if I'm going to 'practice what I preach'. Let me say that I am at least going to try, but if you should see me dragging myself around just before Xmas, bedraggled and puffy-eyed, you'll know it's because I've been burning the midnight oil trying to compose this column for you.

Merry Christmas and A Happy New Year to you all.

WOODCOCK-MYERS NUPTIALS

Miss Marilyn Woodcock, Royal Academy Ballet Teacher of Griesbach for the past seven years, eldest daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Gordon Woodcock, was united in marriage to Mr. Robert Merle Myers, only son of Mrs. S. Myers Saville of Prince Rupert, B.C., and the late Mr. S. Myers on Saturday, November the 24th, 1962.

The wedding was performed in St. Pius X Roman Catholic Church, 13072 Sherbrooke Ave., Edmonton. The Rev. Father F. Floyd officiated in the double ring ceremony and St. Pius X Boy's Choir was in attendance under the direction of Mr. Pierre Turgeon. Mrs. S. Baker presided at the organ and Mr. Roderick Woodcock and Mr. S. O'Nelson were the ushers.

Large white spray mums arranged in standards were used in the decoration of the altar and sanctuary. During the signing of register the hymn "Ave Maria" was sung by Master Darcy Casabon. The reception was held at Western Command Officers' Mess.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of classic simplicity in bridal white, Duches Peau de Soie, accented with bands of imported Venice lace. Her close fitting bodice featured a scooped neckline and traditional lily point sleeves; her bou-fant skirt which was accentuated with inverted pleats flowed to the back in an Edwardian train, holding her mist veil of imported French illusion tulle, was a lace pill box head piece, highlighted with iridescent sequins and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and ivy in cascade style.

Mr. and Mrs. Myers will reside in Edmonton.

RECEIVES COMMISSION

FIRE DEPARTMENT HINTS FOR A HAPPY AND FIRE SAFE CHRISTMAS GIFTS.

Don't buy pyroxylin plastic dolls, toys or non-flameproofed cowboy suits, etc. Toys operated by alcohol, kerosene or gas are especially dangerous; they may upset and set fire to children's clothing, the tree or to the house itself.

Look for the Underwriters Laboratories label when buying electrical toys. This means they have been tested for fire and shock hazards and may be considered safe if properly handled and maintained.

Don't set up electric trains or spirit-fueled toys under a Christmas tree.

The Business Ladies Curling Club

The Business Ladies league started off their fifth season of curling with a bang, and now with seven games (the first round robin) completed, all eight rinks are close — as you will see by the standings.

We are missing a lot of the familiar faces this year, but hope we will meet them something this year during a Bonspiel. Good curling to the ones who have left us and welcome to our newcomers, a good number of whom are beginners. To the beginners we would like to say "Good Luck! You'll be second guessing the skips before you know it."

At the end of our first round robin the standings are as follows:

1. Nelda Hodgkinson
2. Joyce Smith

3. Jan Patterson
4. Nancy Allen
5. Adelaide Nesbitt
6. Olive Bruens
7. Adele Wawryko
8. Stephie Coggins

You may have been approached by some of the team members to buy raffle tickets for some "Christmas Cheer". The draw will be made after the game Dec. 19th, just in time to supplement your household supply for the holiday season.

Here's to the skips broom that never stays put Here's to the rocks that curl down the run
We would have made it on that second shot —
Well, anyway we are curling for fun.

Alberta Signal Squadron News

The Grapevine has it that our Curling activities are at an end for this year. As there are so many postings and moves of personnel from this Unit, it was decided to discontinue these activities until things were more stable for the curling enthusiasts. Here's hoping for a bigger and better Curling Club next Season. The annual Squadron Christmas Party went off with a big "Bang" this year. As Christmas parties go, it was the most popular affair we have had all year. It is estimated that 190, including guests, attended, giving an excellent representation of each section of our Squadron. WO 1 Nye and his staff were in charge of the details, making sure that nothing was left out, and that everyone had a good time. Mr. Nye and his committee, deserve our gratitude for making this event a huge success.

Among the members of this unit who are on Sr. NCO course at Vimy Barracks, are L/Sgt. Harold McPhee, Cpl. Steve Ratsoy and Cpl. Fehr. Good luck to all of you, and may you have a speedy recovery from "Vimyitis", on return to this unit.

The Officers and Members of Alberta Signal Squadron, take this opportunity to wish one and all, A very HAPPY Christmas and a Merry and Properous New Year.

Sam Colt Came A-Gunnin'

The shot from the British officer Colt came out slightly better than struck the sepoy in the chest, but the warrior charged on. The officer fired his Colt again and again, five times in all, every bullet finding its fast-approaching target. Yet the sepoy reached the officer and cut him down before falling dead.

This incident, during the Indian Mutiny, was a vital factor in a gun battle with a difference — the battle between America's Samuel Colt and Britain's John Adams for a British Army contract.

The scene was London's Great Exhibition of 1851. Colt, inventor of the revolver, had come to London to sell his famous "Navy" model to the British Army. "Beware patent infringements," was the constant warning on all Colt advertising. Yet here in London was an English gun, far ahead of other European models, rivalling Colt for the Army contract. The maker — John Adams.

Colt found the Adams revolver was so basically different from his own design that no patent had been infringed. In fact the Adams gun had a self-cocking action while the Colt had to be cocked with the thumb before each shot.

The American began his sales campaign by presenting a "Navy" revolver to every member of the General Staff. Adams replied by attending a Colt lecture and suddenly whipping out one of his own guns, causing a panic that broke up the meeting. He said afterwards he had taken the gun only to demonstrate its merits.

After three years of this kind of gun-toting the War Office staged tests of both weapons. The accurate .36 calibre six-chambered Colt came out slightly better than the .5 Adams with its five chambers. Colt gained the bulk order for 40,000. The American set up a factory in London, bringing over his own technicians to supervise production. It seemed the Colt had won.

But the battle was just beginning. Adams also gained a small contract with the Army and both weapons came into use in the Crimea and during the Indian Mutiny. At first the Colt was by far the more popular weapon, but in the confused close fighting of both these campaigns it was the Adams which triumphed.

It was found that a bullet from the smaller-calibre Colt could pass right through a man without stopping him. The incident of the sepoy was the prime example of this. But the heavy slug of the Adams would flatten any charging fanatic, and its self-cocking mechanism was faster.

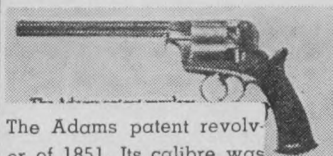

While the War Office was still debating the respective merits, Adams clinched the issue. Frederick Beaumont had invented the double-action hammer which could either cock itself or be cocked by the thumb. Adams bought up the patent and the Beaumont-Adams revolver finally won the battle for the Army's favour.

Samuel Colt closed his London factory, and the "Navy" revolver, so called because of a navy battle scene inscribed on its chamber, returned to America where it continued to thrive. It became that traditional six-shooter used by such legendary marksmen as Billy the Kid and Wild Bill Hickok.

Extensive Mapping Survey Continues

OTTAWA — The survey and up-to-date topographical picture of the entire country by 1967. This year's survey task, on Melville, Prince Patrick, Borden and Mackenzie Islands, was completed three weeks ahead of schedule, reports party chief, Capt. J. F. (Joe) Reichert, of Compeer, Alta., and Ottawa. An officer of the Royal Canadian Engineers (RCE), he credits good weather for this summer's successful operations. "The use of helicopters and tellurometers, electronic distance measuring devices, has also made field survey work in the North an easier task," he added. "Such vast areas could never be surveyed using conventional distance measuring methods or less adequate transportation," Capt. Reichert said.

During the past three-month "summer season" in the Arctic archipelago a 17-man party from the Army Survey Establishment in Ottawa added enough survey data to complete another 18 map sheets at 1/250,000 scale (approximately one inch to four miles), to the growing complex of maps and data, that should result in an

The crew was comprised of seven RCE soldier-surveyors, two cooks from the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps (RCASC) and eight civilian helicopter pilots who provided all the transportation requirements. Next summer's field survey programme will include the islands of Somerset, Prince of Wales and King William as well as the Boothia Peninsula itself. Soldiers from the Ottawa-based Army Survey Establishment involved were: Lieut. J. A. (Alf) Hackaray, Langley, B.C., Sergeants Ken Nethercott, St. Thomas, Ont., Tony Gaffney, Aylmer, Que., John Sinclair, Haney, B.C., Des Falls, Ottawa, and Corporal Len Maloney, Newcastle, N.B.

Corporal R. A. Menzies, of the 2nd Battalion, Queen's Own Rifles of Canada, and Lance Corporal R. J. A. Moreau, 3rd Battalion, Royal 22nd Regiment, Camp Valcartier, Que., were the two RCASC cooks responsible for the survey party's nourishment.

Skiing — Now An Official Army Sport

The Canadian Army has officially recognized recreational skiing, both Alpine and Nordic, and has authorized participation by servicemen. A General Staff Instruction will be issued prescribing the regulations which will govern skiing within the Regular Force.

The Griesbach Ski Club, affiliated with both the Canadian Amateur Ski Association and the Ski Association of the Canadian Army, held its first meeting of the season on the 23rd of November. The club plans to take full advantage of both the civilian and military opportunities being offered.

Foremost in our club's programme are ski clinics each Thursday afternoon during the current season. Alpine ski equipment is available to members and formal instruction will be offered. The excellent facilities of the Edmonton Ski Club have been made available and because of their means of manufacturing snow skiing will not be dependent upon mother nature.

Five of our members will attend the Amateur Ski Instructors Course at Banff from the 9th to 16th of December and will be qualified to instruct novice and intermediate skiers. One member, Cpl. Sarry Berg of the Princess Patricia's will attend the Coaches Clinic during the same period and will be able to improve the techniques of advanced skiers and to coach members of our club who wish to participate in competitive racing.

Our club plans to enter competitors in the Western Command Army Ski Meet as well as competitions conducted under the auspices of the Alberta Division of the Canadian Amateur Ski Association. The main emphasis however will be on helping servicemen to enjoy the benefits of recreational skiing.

For further information concerning membership or club activities please contact your unit sport representative.

SANTA'S HELPERS

Colonel John S. McCannel (left) and Major George Mason of Army Headquarters, Ottawa, pack newly repaired toys for shipment to Eskimo children at Resolute Bay. The toys were donated by Army and Civil Service personnel at Army Headquarters.

The True Spirit of Christmas

OTTAWA — The Canadian Army reverses Santa's distribution this year — toys are going North — aided by the RCAF.

The lives of 41 Eskimo children at Resolute Bay will be brightened by over 300 toys donated by army and civil service at Army Headquarters in Ottawa.

During a recent tour of air weather stations Colonel John S. McCannel, a senior Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps officer with the three-service Surgeon General Staff at Ottawa, stopped over at the RCAF detachment at Resolute Bay. The RCAF Commanding Officer, Squadron Leader J. N. Hall, mentioned he was planning a Christmas party for the 41 children of the local village and the colonel offered to help.

Returning to Ottawa, he canvassed Army Headquarters for contributions of toys. A heartwarming response provided games, dolls, wagons, trucks, cars, aeroplanes, trains and even hockey equipment.

At his home on the Prescott Highway Col. McCannel, assisted by his wife Judy, a neighbor Major George Mason and his wife Kay, tackled the task of fixing and preparing the donations.

An assembly line was set-up. Judy and Kay operated a "quick clean" at the kitchen sink and also the sewing department. Some dolls had new wigs of angora yarn manufactured for them, while others had missing limbs, eyes, and clothing replaced.

Mrs. McCannel, expressing her sentiments about the dolls, said, "We can't send a poor little unclothed dolly up to that Northland."

The men concentrated their efforts on repairing toys in the basement workshop. "We stripped some to provide parts for others", said Col. McCannel, in describing the repair job.
